Business Legal Purpose	Touch A Heart Now is a charitable organization with the purpose of improving the lives of impoverished children in the village of Lulumbu, Uganda, Africa through education and community outreach. This organization has a sister organization of the same name that is a certified Community Based Organization (CBO) in the Mpigi District of Uganda, Africa. The purpose for the US based organization is to raise money to provide an education for these children who would otherwise have no opportunity at an education. The corporation would hold fundraisers as well as solicit donor sponsors for these children.

Business Activity Description	This business is a charitable organization that will raise money to provide primary schooling for children and provide family services such as meals and healthcare in Uganda, Africa. The sister organization with the same name (Touch A Heart Now) exists as a certified Community Based Organization in the Mpigi District of Uganda in the village of Lulumbu. Our plan is to become a Non-profit organization here in Glen Dale, WV in the United States where the founders of the organization reside. Our goal is to raise money in order to provide education for children in this small village who currently can't afford to go to school. Our activities would include holding fund-raising events, soliciting sponsors for the children we have identified in Lulumbu, Uganda. We would also be administering these funds. The CBO in Uganda has an office in Lulumbu and a social worker on staff. One of the founders, Irene Hartle, who lives in Glen Dale, WV is from Uganda and is the President of the CBO in Uganda. I, James Hartle, am her husband and one of five people on the board of directors of the CBO. We can provide a copy of our certification if necessary.
